	help them move forward with it? They are not on the National Register. It was suggested we add to the agenda for the next meeting under item 2, Old Business.
Historic Interpretative Signage	D. Anderson asked about the interpretative signage project. Design fee is separate from the invoice we received for the panels. 250-word limit for the sign is suggested by Vacker. Committee members will circulate the text for the signs—and J. Leamon can create a google doc for review. The committee is providing text and images. N. Schultz suggested that the pages be housed in our section of the town website where our newsletters are housed. K. Barry will inquire if we can link QR codes to pages run by the SHC.
PRESERVATION AWARDS:	Researcher having difficulty getting the information for the preservation awards because of library and other offices being closed

OTHER ITEMS FOR DISCUSSION	3 Boynton—N. Schultz asked to add to our next meeting agenda. This address was listed in the Green Book from 1939 to 1954. The house was built in 1872, and the owners were a black couple, Mary Emma and William Allen, who bought the house in 1909. We can discuss processes for preservation forms, and invite the owner, Jay Duffy, to attend. N. Schultz observed that the movie “Green Book” was written by a North Shore native, Brian Currie, who has family in Swampscott, and that it is timely to explore historical topics connected to race in the town.
Closing:	J. Oliver moved to adjourn, D. Anderson seconded. 7:54 p.m.

Next meeting: Thursday, August 6, 6:30 p.m.
